la to secure appointments to the police force for men in als district?"

"Yes, sir,"

"He didn't know anything about the registration circular sent to Tammany captains in hi district before last election, but he said he had not.

He didn't know anything about the postscript alluding to certain persons receiving police protection, and had asked the Secretary of the Association. Therman Parker, about it. He had never heard of it.

"I think somebody must have deceived you about that postscript. It was never sent out by my authority."

"Did you select Mr. Sheehan as the best Commissioner to apply to for appointments to the police force?"

"No, sir."

"You seem to have made a good many recommendations according to the Commissioner's appointment book," said Mr. Goff, who then went over the list and found eight appointments credited to Mr. Hoyle in iski and in 1853. There were John. Page Allen, Jeremish Sullivan, James M. Connors, Charles S. Polloch, Edward J. Burke, John Ross, Lawrence O'Brien and Matthew Silk.

After each new name was discovered Mr. Goff asked the witness if his limit had been reached.

""I'm sure I don't know. I wish there were fifty of them." said Boyle, laughing. "I only remembered three or four when you first asked me."

Mr. Boyle's Big Pull.

Mr. Boyle's Big Pull.

Mere's More "Inflooence."

Other names read from Mr. Sheehan's appointment book by Mr. Goff were Benator. Timothy D. Sullivan, Congressman Timothy J. Campbell, John T. Docharty, Alderman Charles Parks, ex-Benator Charles P. McClelland, Coroner John B. Shea, John Rellly, Lawrence Delmour, Police Justice Patrick Divver, Police Justice Burke, Police Justice Thomas F. Grady, John W. Carroll, Alderman William Tait, Judge Newberger, Peter J. Dooling, ex-Police Capt, Devery, who recommended his brother, Stephen B. Devery; Police Camplaint Clark Petersen; E. Ellery Anderson, ex-Speaker William Sulzer, Frank Tweed, Louis Munzinger, Patrick Sarsheld Cassidy, Alderman Frank G. Rinn, Dock Commissioner Andrew J. White, Louis Drypolcher, Sheriff John B. Sexton and Alderman Gex.

All of these had recommended one or more men for appointment to the force.

Mr. Goff sald he read the names simply a personal request on the part of Mr. Tekulsky. He atterwards admitted that he knew names were to be submitted to those selecting the Grand Jury both how Know, and he naver to be submitted to those selecting the Grand Jury and he did not know, and he naver asked him. "How many names did you send him?" Two. I think."

Thomas F. Grady, John W. Carroll, Alderman Lexow thought that this method on packing Grand Juries was the more definite facts to a way to get at more definite facts to a concerning the practice.

Who Is This Judge?

Mr. Goff then stated on the authority of Mr. Moss that several protests had been made last year against a certain Grand Jury, and had been sent to all the Judges composing the Committee on the panel.

"The reply was made," said Mr. Goff the Sub-tommittee, and that Judge, I may add, is a Judge of a criminal court." Who this Judge was Mr. Goff did not say, but dropped the subject at that point and asked for an adjournment.

Lawyer Grant appealed to the Com-bersons who recommended applicants for the police force.

After Mr. Boyle retired Mr. Goff called Morris Tekulsky, ex-President of the Biste Liquor Dealers' Ascociation, who was present. He took the stand, Mr. Goff said he only wanted to ask him how many mer he had had appointed to the Grand Jury in this county.

"Not any I believe," said Mr. Tekulsky, very deliberately, "At one time I was associated with some of the wholes ale liquor dealers. We talked the matter over, and sent in one or two names as Grand Jurons. I dbn't remember now who the persons were or whether they were appointed.

Mr. Tekulsky said that the names are sent in to the Sheriff or some other officer by Mr. Smith, the Secretary of the Association.

"Why did you send in these names?"

"Mr. Tekulsky on Grand Juries.

"Because we wanted to get some responsible and honest men on the Grand Jury so that we might obtain a proper tribunal for the consideration of cases affecting our interests."

"Don't you think Grand Jurors are properly selected now?"

"No; I have always believed that the men selected for the Grand Jury are producted and bigoted in their views and cannot give cases that come before them a proper consideration."

"Didn't you, as a matter of fact, try to get some liquor dealers on the Grand Jury?"

"No, sir. I believe that honest, up. sampling Hollydood Whiskey."

"No, sir. I believe that honest up-right men with no political affiliations should be chosen. I never tried to get any liquor dealers on the Grand Jury. Jury."

Mr. Goff stated in reply to an inquiry of one of the Senators that the Grand Jurors were chosen by the Chief Judges of the Supreme and Superior City Court, together with the County Clerk.

"He then showed Mr. Tekulsky a letter, the signature of which here is the county of the signature of which here is the signature of the signature of which here is the signature of the of the Supreme and Superior City Court, together with the County Clerk.

"He then showed Mr. Teknisky a letter the signature of which he acknowledged as his own. It was addressed to J. P. Smith, Secretary of the State Liquor Dealers Association, and was fasted June 26, 1841. It said:

Der Sr. Years with names vas day received yetterder. Tou have done to well with those two that I want you to send une four or five more young with the raile of this wilskey, but go customers when I could.

"I don't sell in the President of the Company which that this was and dec were, but said he could not remember any of them.

"Why did you send them in?"
"We wanted to get some men on the Grand Jury who would not be prejudiced against our trade," admitted Mr. Tekuisky, frankly, admitted Mr. "I am" Moses Huntoon, superintendent of the National Ice Company, was the next witness. He had just begun to answer Mr. Goff's question when there was a stir at the door, and Mrs. Mathilda Her-

"There must have been somebody who could induct these persons into the Grand Jury."

The witness said he did not see anything wrong in this and thought any sitiam had a right to recommend names for the Grand Jury. In fact, he understood it was often done, which surprised Mr. Goff.

Mr. Tekulsky afterwards said he must have sent the names to the District Attorney's office. He wouldn't swear that he hadn't, but when Chairman Lexow called his attention to the fact that this could have been a very strange pro-
